A SPECIAL NOTE ON PRICING

Reaching Out MBA has revised its partnership levels and associated benefits for 2023. Our partnership levels and pricing were last updated in 2019, even as inflation has driven significant increases in our event-related costs. We have also continued to increase the value provided by our benefits, including lead retrieval to streamline recruiting efforts. Our 2023 revised partnership levels are more comparable to peer organizations' pricing.

We will monitor economic conditions closely; and, if we believe any pricing changes are necessary for 2024, we will notify you by November 1, 2023, so that you may make adjustments in your budgeting process.

As you budget for your partnership, please make sure to budget for appropriate related expenses such as travel, shipping and handling, logistics, and overall partnership activation. This budgeting will help to ensure that you have the necessary resources to maximize your partnership benefits and take full advantage of everything Reaching Out MBA has to offer.

THE MEANING OF PARTNERSHIP

Reaching Out MBA seeks corporate partners who want active, year-round engagement. A partnership means a commitment of dollars as well as time and effort. We hope you share our vision of education, inspiration and connection and will offer your resources to help us actualize our mission. Our commitment to DEI principles means that we value diverse representations that include race/ethnicity, sex, gender identity, and sexual orientation.

EXAMPLES OF CORPORATE PARTNERSHIP INCLUDE:

- · Committing to being an engaged advocate for Reaching Out MBA in your company
- Presenting to our LGBTQ+ MBAs on a salient topic at ROMBA events (or virtually)
- Participating in our Summer Trek program, offering an on-site company presentation so that you may recruit top LGBTQ+ MBA talent as summer interns
- Hosting your own local event to meet Reaching Out MBA talent
- Serving on a panel discussion at ROMBA or at one of our other events
- Actively engaging GradLeaders, our jobs board, so that you may keep our talent up-to-date on your full-time offerings, internships, and other employment opportunities
- Joining the Reaching Out MBA LinkedIn Group, posting your company's events and opportunities

A corporate partnership with Reaching Out MBA is not a sponsorship. We seek to avoid a transactional relationship but rather to encourage a supportive, reciprocal relationship that always puts our LGBTQ+ MBA talent first. Your company can show its commitment to the community by activating this partnership fully and further enhancing engagement.

Reaching Out MBA is much more than our annual conference! We have grown to include a curriculum of year-round events for current and post-MBAs that educate, inspire, and connect an increasingly diverse LGBTQ+ business community.
